Dear Mr. Serventi,

Concerning the documents of the Alfa Romeo

At the time of collecting the car in France, no papers were existing. I have been told that the car should have Swiss and French papers. But nobody knows where they are.

However, exporting a car from France, means that one has to return the 'carte grise' to the government. So, even with papers the car would have come to you without document.

To avoid problems I asked a declaration of the French police, permitting export of the car.

I will send you the pictures of all the parts which I took at the moment of transportation.

Regards

J.A.
